To Whom It May Concern:

We were approached by Langley James in November 2008, while we were about to recruit for a Systems Manager and IT Technician.

The agency approach was always polite, non-invasive and positive. They proceeded to introduce suitable candidates to us alongside our own recruitment process and we were able to select half the candidates to be interviewed from those introduced by Langley James.

Both candidates subsequently selected for both positions were from Langley James.

We would have no hesitation in recommending them to other companies.
